

Could you use your personal USB drive to backup a spreadsheet with client data?

You are working on a spreadsheet with customer data. You need to go to the bathroom.

How to avoid a data breach?

Your company laptop gets stolen. There was a spreadsheet with customer names on it.

What do you need to do?

A colleague asks the name of a customer they know is undergoing cancer treatment. You have access to the information. What do you tell them?

Should you be able to browse customer data from another department?

An employee with access to the customer database leaves.

What do you need to do?

What problems could result from unencrypted communication
in the company Wifi?

A colleague asks you to connect them to a former employee. How can you help them in a GDPR-safe way?

A former colleague asks to be deleted. Do you have to delete them from the database backups as well?

A former colleague claims they did not consent to having their picture on the company homepage.
What should you do?

What data protection challenges do you see at company homepage?

Where is personal data kept in your organization?

What easy steps could be taken to improve data protection in your organization?